

[Download free ebook] Christian. Muslim. Friend. (Christians Meeting Muslims)

Christian. Muslim. Friend. (Christians Meeting Muslims)

Von David W. Shenk

ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

Produktinformation -Verkaufsrank: #595362 in eBooksVerffentlicht am: 2014-11-01Erscheinungsdatum: 2014-11-01File Name: B00P6U46JK | File size: 19.Mb

Von David W. Shenk : Christian. Muslim. Friend. (Christians Meeting Muslims) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Christian. Muslim. Friend. (Christians Meeting Muslims):

KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Hilfreiche LektreVon CustomerDieses Buch gibt praktische Tipps, wie man als Christ auf muslimische Mitbrger zugehen kann, mit dem Ziel, einen konstruktiven Dialog im Kontext einer authentischen Freundschaft zu praktizieren. Sehr inspirierend. Auch wenn manche Berichte des Autors in Zeiten des islamistischen Terrors zu gut klingen um wahr zu sein.

Kurzbeschreibung Can Christians and Muslims be friends? Real friends? Even in an era of intense religious conflict, David Shenk says yes. In Christian. Muslim. Friend., Shenk lays out twelve ways that Christians can form authentic relationships with Muslims characterized by respect, hospitality, and candid dialogue while still bearing witness to the Christ-centered commitments of their faith. Rooted in fifty years of friendship with Muslims in Somalia, Kenya, and the United States, this book will inspire readers with astounding stories of the author's animated conversations with Muslim clerics, visits to countless mosques around the globe, and the pastors and imams who are working for peace. These tried and true paths offer a compelling resource with practical application for mission personnel, Sunday school classes, and Christians who meet people of Islamic faith in their communities.

Pressestimmen "It's hard to imagine a more timely book than Christian. Muslim. Friend. As someone who travels frequently to troubled regions of the Middle East in search of people of peace, I found this book to be extremely helpful and inspiring." -- Lynne Hybels "Willow Creek Community Church" "David Shenk provides a powerful resource to help us understand how we build bridges of friendship with our Muslim neighbors. I encourage you to read, absorb, and courageously take the proven paths outlined in this thought-provoking book." -- Geoff Tunnicliffe "secretary general, World Evangelical Alliance" "It's hard to imagine a more timely book than Christian. Muslim. Friend. As someone who travels frequently to troubled regions of the Middle East in search of people of peace, I found this book to be extremely helpful and inspiring." -- Lynne Hybels "cofounder, Willow Creek Community Church" (11/01/2014) "David Shenk provides a powerful resource to help us understand how we build bridges of friendship with our Muslim neighbors. I encourage you to read, absorb, and courageously take the proven paths outlined in this thought-provoking book." -- Geoff Tunnicliffe "secretary general, World Evangelical Alliance" (11/01/2014) "As the storms of conflict rage between Muslims and Christians, this book is a thunderclap of grace. Without compromising his convictions and coming from deep personal experiences, David Shenk brings powerful wisdom and empathy to a divided world." -- Rachel Pieh Jones "writer and blogger" (11/01/2014) "This book is infused with evidence of the author's personal integrity shaped by a tradition of Christianity known for its unambiguous commitment to peace and peacebuilding. This work will appeal to all Christians seeking to relate to Muslims; it will also connect with Muslims open to seeing a sympathetic reflection of themselves in its pages." -- David Singh "research tutor in Islamic studies, Oxford Centre for Mission Studies" (11/01/2014) "I have not only learned much from this book, but I have also been greatly challenged in the way I seek to build relationships in peacemaking. I heartily recommend this book to all who are keen to build bridges to the Muslim community." -- Tan Kok Beng "chair, Bethany International University, Singapore" (11/01/2014) "Exceptionally well written, organized and presented, Christian. Muslim. Friend: Twelve Paths to Real Relationship is a timely contribution to our on-going national dialogue with respect to distinguishing mainstream Islam teachings, beliefs and practices from those distortions of Islam misrepresented by such groups as Al-Qaeda and the Islamic State. Informed and informative, Christian. Muslim. Friend. is strongly recommended reading for all Christians regardless of denominational affiliation and would prove to be a popular and responsible addition to community library Religion Spirituality collections, as well as an invaluable contribution to academic library Christian Islamic reference collections and supplemental studies reading lists." -- Helen Dumont "Midwest Book" (02/01/2015) "Christian. Muslim. Friend." Is an important and timely volume that should be a part of the library of every pastor, chaplain, and average Christian interested in practices that can be put into place relationships are built with Muslim neighbors in America and around the world." -- John W. Morehead "Englewood of Books" (05/15/2015) "It's hard to imagine a more timely book than Christian. Muslim. Friend. As someone who travels frequently to troubled regions of the Middle East in search of people of peace, I found this book to be extremely helpful and inspiring." -- Lynne Hybels "cofounder, Willow Creek Community Church" (11/01/2014) "David Shenk provides a powerful resource to help us understand how we build bridges of friendship with our Muslim neighbors. I encourage you to read, absorb, and courageously take the proven paths outlined in this thought-provoking book." -- Geoff Tunnicliffe "secretary general, World Evangelical Alliance" (11/01/2014) "As the storms of conflict rage between Muslims and Christians, this book is a thunderclap of grace. Without compromising his convictions and coming from deep personal experiences, David Shenk brings powerful wisdom and empathy to a divided world." -- Rachel Pieh Jones "writer and blogger" (11/01/2014) "This book is infused with evidence of the author's personal integrity shaped by a tradition of Christianity known for its unambiguous commitment to peace and peacebuilding. This work will appeal to all Christians seeking to relate to Muslims; it will also connect with Muslims open to seeing a sympathetic reflection of themselves in its pages." -- David Singh "research tutor in Islamic studies, Oxford Centre for Mission Studies" (11/01/2014) "I have not only learned much from this book, but I have also been greatly challenged in the way I seek to build relationships in peacemaking. I heartily recommend this book to all who are keen to build bridges to the Muslim community."--Tan Kok Beng"chair, Bethany International University, Singapore" (11/01/2014)"Exceptionally well written, organized and presented, Christian. Muslim. Friend: Twelve Paths to Real Relationship is a timely contribution to our on-going national dialogue with respect to distinguishing mainstream Islam teachings, beliefs and practices from those distortions of Islam misrepresented by such groups as Al-Qaeda and the Islamic State. Informed and informative, Christian. Muslim. Friend. is strongly recommended reading for all Christians regardless of denominational affiliation and would prove to be an popular and responsible addition to community library Religion Spirituality collections, as well as an invaluable contribution to academic library Christian Islamic reference collections and supplemental studies reading lists."--Helen Dumont"Midwest Book " (02/01/2015)"Christian. Muslim. Friend. Is an important and timely volume that should be a part of the library of every pastor, chaplain, and average Christian interested in practices that can be put into place relationships are built with Muslim neighbors in America and around the world."--John W. Morehead"Englewood of Books" (05/15/2015)- It's hard to imagine a more timely book than Christian. Muslim. Friend. As someone who travels frequently to troubled regions of the Middle East in search of people of peace, I found this book to be extremely helpful and inspiring.--- Lynne Hybels-cofounder, Willow Creek Community Church- (11/01/2014)-David Shenk provides a powerful resource to help us understand how we build bridges of friendship with our Muslim neighbors. I encourage you to read, absorb, and courageously take the proven paths outlined in this thoughtprovoking book.---Geoff Tunnicliffe-secretary general, World Evangelical Alliance- (11/01/2014)-As the storms of conflict rage between Muslims and Christians, this book is a thunderclap of grace. Without compromising his convictions and coming from deep personal experiences, David Shenk brings powerful wisdom and empathy to a divided world.---Rachel Pieh Jones-writer and blogger- (11/01/2014)- This book is infused with evidence of the author's personal integrity shaped by a tradition of Christianity known for its unambiguous commitment to peace and peacebuilding. This work will appeal to all Christians seeking to relate to Muslims; it will also connect with Muslims open to seeing a sympathetic reflection of themselves in its pages.---David Singh-research tutor in Islamic studies, Oxford Centre for Mission Studies- (11/01/2014)-I have not only learned much from this book, but I have also been greatly challenged in the way I seek to build relationships in peacemaking. I heartily recommend this book to all who are keen to build bridges to the Muslim community.---Tan Kok Beng-chair, Bethany International University, Singapore- (11/01/2014)-Exceptionally well written, organized and presented, Christian. Muslim. Friend: Twelve Paths to Real Relationship is a timely contribution to our on-going national dialogue with respect to distinguishing mainstream Islam teachings, beliefs and practices from those distortions of Islam misrepresented by such groups as Al-Qaeda and the Islamic State. Informed and informative, Christian. Muslim. Friend. is strongly recommended reading for all Christians regardless of denominational affiliation and would prove to be an popular and responsible addition to community library Religion Spirituality collections, as well as an invaluable contribution to academic library Christian Islamic reference collections and supplemental studies reading lists.---Helen Dumont-Midwest Book - (02/01/2015)-Christian. Muslim. Friend. Is an important and timely volume that should be a part of the library of every pastor, chaplain, and average Christian interested in practices that can be put into place relationships are built with Muslim neighbors in America and around the world.---John W. Morehead-Englewood of Books- (05/15/2015)KurzbeschreibungCan Christians and Muslims be friends? Real friends? Even in an era of intense religious conflict, David Shenk says yes. In Christian. Muslim. Friend., Shenk lays out twelve ways that Christians can form authentic relationships with Muslimscharacterized by respect, hospitality, and candid dialoguewhile still bearing witness to the Christ-centered commitments of their faith. Rooted in fifty years of friendship with Muslims in Somalia, Kenya, and the United States, this book will inspire readers with astounding stories of the authors animated conversations with Muslim clerics, visits to countless mosques around the globe, and the pastors and imams who are working for peace. These tried and true paths offer a compelling resource with practical application for mission personnel, Sunday school classes, and Christians who meet people of Islamic faith in their communities.