Doubling Your Sunday School ClassVon Jim L WilsonWould you like to energize your teachers, revitalize your organization and realize exponential growth in your Sunday School? Have you ever thought about releasing a TIGER in all your classes? That is exactly what Josh Hunt suggests you do in his new book: You Can Double Your Class in

Two Years or Less. "Tiger" is an acrostic for: Teach a halfway decent lesson each and every week--nothing less will do. Invite every member and every prospect to every fellowship every month. Give Friday nights to Jesus. Encourage the group to ministry. Reproduce new groups. Though Josh has experience as a Pastor, Minister of Education, and a Church Growth Consultant, he wrote this book from his rich experience as a Sunday School Teacher. It is written to people on the front lines of ministry by a person who ministers on the front lines. This book will help teachers become reachers. It stresses the importance of developing and maintaining relationships in the small group ministry. "People are not looking for a friendly Church," Josh writes, "they are looking for friends." Classes stop growing when they stop being "friends" with new people and settle with being "friendly." Josh moves the reader away from an emphasis on formulas and growth charts to people, where it belongs. This fresh emphasis works! I used these principles to grow a class from five to twenty in six months. Pick up this book and learn a no-holds-barred, tired-and-true, Biblical approach to teach/reach people for Jesus Christ. Go ahead, "grab the tiger by the tail," you'll be glad you did!

Kurzbeschreibung We can reach our nation for God with an army of small group leaders like you who have a vision for doubling their class every two years or less. We can reach our nation for Christ. We can reach America with an army of small group leaders like you who have a vision for doubling their classes every two years or less. We can do it. We can do all things through Christ who strengthens us. We can be obedient to what God told us to do. I want to do that, dont you? Think of it. There are approximately 320,000 churches in America. Each one has approximately 75 in attendance and about 7 Sunday school classes. That means there are approximately 24 million people attending church on any given weekend and a little over 2 million Sunday school teachers. Suppose half, or a fourth, or even a tenth of the Sunday school teachers in America committed to doubling their class ten times in the next 20 years. Suppose, like Gideons army, we had only 25,000 teachers from various denominations and churches on board. If each one doubled every two years or less, we would reach America in a little past 20 years.
